FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

A Life Saving Elephant Who Caught Cold and Died.

A few years ago two children were bathing in the sea at a little town on the coast of France when suddenly for some reason or other they were carried out of their depth. In were carried out of their depth. In a few moments their cries as they struggled in the deep water aroused attention, but before any one could reach them they were rescued in an altogether unexpected manner. An immense elephant belonging to a traveling circus happened to have been led down to the sea that have been led down to the sea that morning to bathe, and as he was enjoying his bath close at hand he heard the cries of the children. Plunging through the water toward them, he lifted them very gently, one at a time, and carried them to a place of safety.

This elephant, whose name was Gus, recently died at Hereford from the effects of a severe cold. He had reached a great age and was said to be 150 years old.—Chatterbox.

How to Tell the Time.

I've jus' learned how to tell the time;
My mother teached me to,
An' ef you think you'd like to learn
I guess I might teach you.
At first, though, it's as hard as fun
An' makes you twist an' turn,
An' mother says that they is folks—
Big folks—what never learn.

You stand before the clock, jus' so,
An' start right at the top;
That's twelve o'clock, an' when you re
The little hand you stop.
Now, that's the hour, but you've got
To watch what you're about,
Because the hardest part is to come,
To find the minutes out.

You go right back again to where
You started from an' see
How far the minute hand's away,
Like this—you're watchin' me?—
An' when you've found the minute hand
You multiply by five,
An' then you've not the time of day,
As sure as you're alive.

They's folks, I know, what says that they Don't have to count that way. That they can tell by jus' a glance At any time of day. But I don't b'lleve no fibs like that, Because of that was true My ma would know it, but she showed Me like I'm showin' you.

—W. W. Whitelock in Lealie's Monthly.

One morning I found my terrier Nip sitting outside the store cup-board. He always liked to be near when it was opened, because he hoped to get something to eat, so I took no notice of him; but he jumped up at me and then at the door, asking as plainly as he could that it might be opened. I scolded him for being so greedy, but he would not move.

Later in the day cook wanted and two more tomorrow, how many rabbits would you have then?" "Eight!" promptly answered the juvenile. "Eight! Why, how do you make that out?" "'Cause I've got one to home already."

A NEW REMEDY.

The old friends of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be pleased to know that the manufacturers of that preparation have gotten out a new remedy called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and that it is meeting with much success in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, sick headache, impaired di-gestion and like disorders. These Tab-lets are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills, then they not only move the bowels, but improve the ap-petite and correct any disorders of the stomach and liver. Don't Treat Symptoms

Go after the cause. Stimulants and cathartics will never cure indigestion. They may temporarily relieve the system but the next meal clogs it again. The food should be digested. The nourishment—health—strength it contains should be appropriated—absorbed by the system.

KODOL

Thrive

This new discovery digests all classes of food and assists the stomach and digestive organs in assimilating and transforming it into the kind of nourishment that is taken up by the blood and fed to the tissues throughout the various organs of the body. Kodol cures indigestion and dyspepsia, thus removing the cause of all stomach troubles. Kodol gives such strength to the body that it is invaluable in all wasting diseases.

"I wish to thank you for what Kodol hasdone for me," writes Clifton Girton, Collett, Ind. "It cured me of dyspepsia after everything else had failed. When I tried Kodol it helped me right away. I cheerfully recommend it."
